Peacehaven and Trillium Health Resources Announce, “Meg’s House,” a New Adult Respite Home in Central North Carolina

The next step in their partnership to strengthen supports for families and create community-centered respite for adults with I/DD

Whitsett, NC — Peacehaven and Trillium Health Resources today announced a $10 million investment that advances Peacehaven’s Different Together Campaign and powers the construction of Meg’s House, a new adult respite home being built on Peacehaven’s 89-acre campus in central North Carolina. Of the $10 million, $3 million has been dedicated as a 1:1 Matching Initiative through Trillium. Every new gift to Peacehaven between today and Harvest Celebration on October 25, 2026 will be matched dollar for dollar, up to $3 million.

The announcement marks a significant milestone for the Different Together Campaign, which has now raised $15.78 million of its $23.5 million goal. Campaign funds have advanced Phase 1 construction including the new Community Center – a hub for programming, employment opportunities, and meaningful day experiences for adults with I/DD – and now support the addition of adult respite through Meg’s House.

The announcement builds on a partnership first shared during National Family Caregivers Month in November 2025 and the introduction of Meg’s House today. The two organizations have listened closely to families across the region. One theme surfaced repeatedly: while caregiving is rooted in deep love, the day-to-day responsibility carried by parents and family members can be relentless, while sustainable respite options for adults with I/DD remain far too limited.

Meg’s House is envisioned as a warm environment on Peacehaven’s 89-acres, with access to all its programs and amenities, where adults with I/DD can experience belonging, comfort, and connection while their families step away to rest, recharge, and take care of themselves. Located along the I-40 / I-85 corridor, Meg’s House will sit in the heart of the state, making it accessible to families traveling from across North Carolina.

“This is a milestone the Peacehaven community has worked toward for years, and Trillium Health Resources has been part of that work since their first visit to our farm in March 2024,” said Phelps Sprinkle, Chief Executive Officer of Peacehaven. “We are $15.78 million toward our $23.5 million goal, with Trillium’s $3 million Matching Initiative now in front of us. Every gift to Peacehaven between today and Harvest Celebration on October 25 will be matched, dollar for dollar, up to $3 million. That puts us in arm's reach of closing this campaign and turning to the next phase of our integrated housing work."

"From the moment we first visited Peacehaven, it was clear that this is much more than a campus—it's a community built on dignity, belonging, and opportunity," said Hayley Sink, SVP, Innovation and Strategy of Trillium Health Resources. "The families, residents, and team have created something extraordinary: a place where people are known, valued, and supported in living full and meaningful lives. This partnership reflects what we believe about community—that when individuals and families have trusted places to turn, the entire system of care grows stronger, improving health and well-being for everyone."
